A Noted Gift

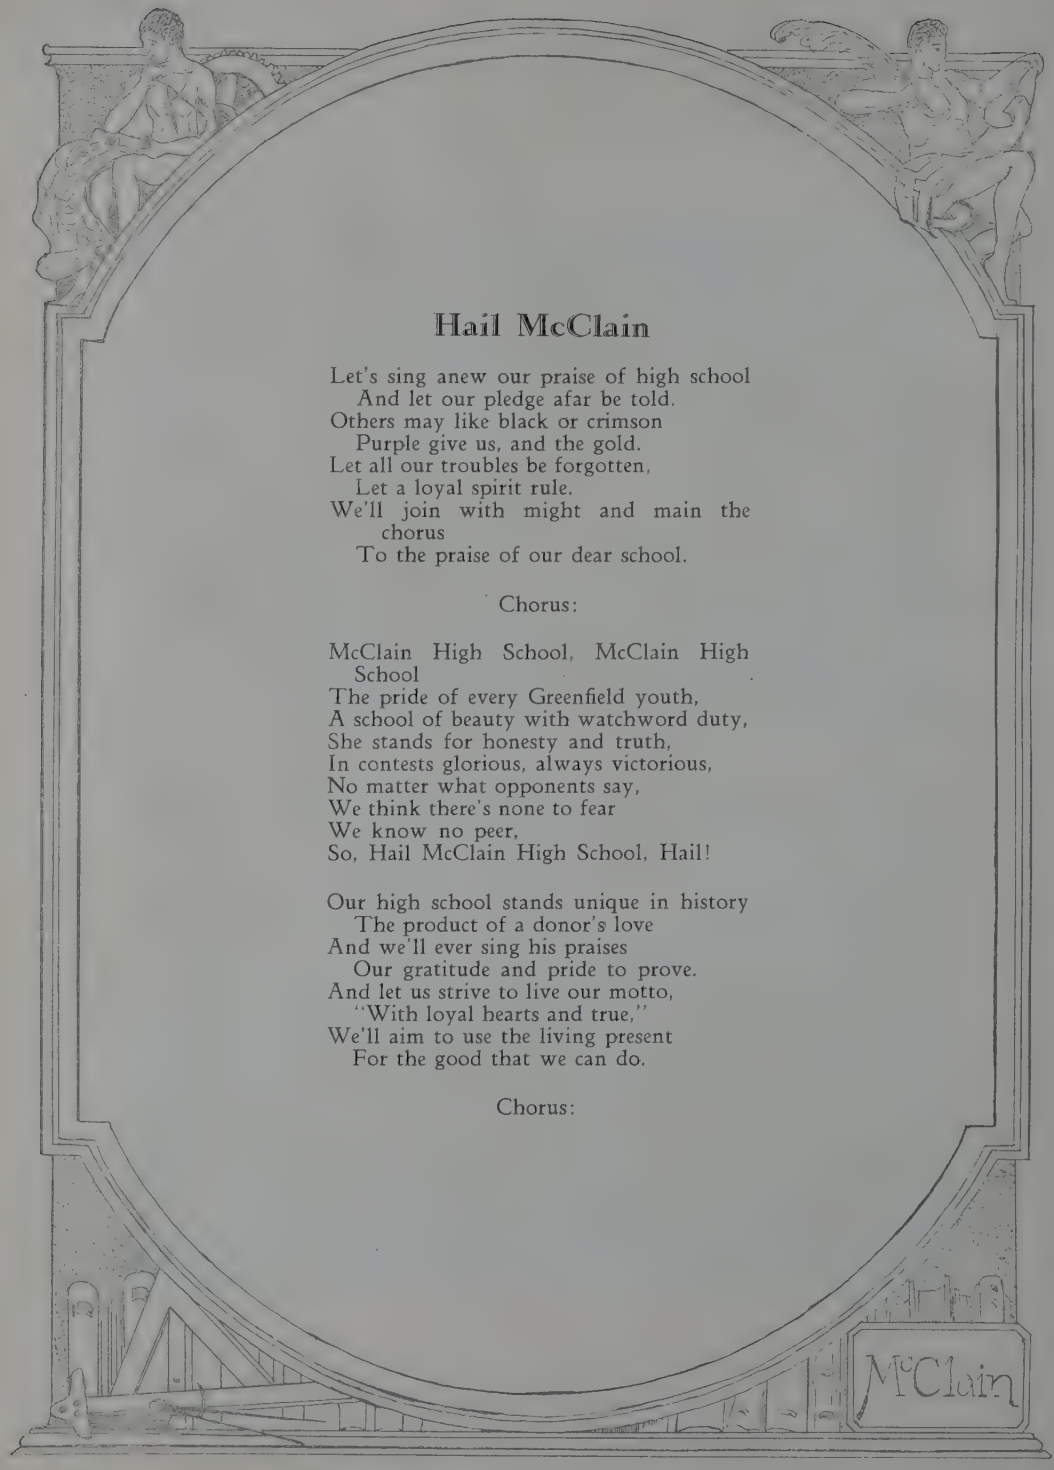
IN 1928 an original bust of "Ginevra" made of Carrara marble was presented to McClain high school by Mr. W. G. Moler, former superintendent of the Greenfield Schools. This gift was presented as a memorial to the donor's wife, Alice Colburn Moler. The first picture of this beautiful piece of statuary was taken at the time pictures of the entire plant were being taken for the film, "Education Moves Ahead."

The bust represents a young Italian girl of high degree and was carved by the famous American sculptor, Hiram Powers.

McClain Students At Work

McClain Students At Work

McClain Students At Work



Hail McClain

Let's sing anew our praise of high school
And let our pledge afar be told.
Others may like black or crimson
Purple give us, and the gold.
Let all our troubles be forgotten,
Let a loyal spirit rule.
We'll join with might and main the chorus
To the praise of our dear school.

Chorus:

McClain High School, McClain High School
The pride of every Greenfield youth,
A school of beauty with watchword duty,
She stands for honesty and truth,
In contests glorious, always victorious,
No matter what opponents say,
We think there's none to fear
We know no peer,
So, Hail McClain High School, Hail!

Our high school stands unique in history
The product of a donor's love
And we'll ever sing his praises
Our gratitude and pride to prove.
And let us strive to live our motto,
"With loyal hearts and true,"
We'll aim to use the living present
For the good that we can do.

Chorus:

"The shadow by my finger cast
Divides the future from the past;
Before it, sleeps the unborn hour,
In darkness, and beyond thy power;
Behind its unreturning line,
The vanished hour, no longer thine;
One hour alone is in thy hands,—
The now on which the shadow stands."

FOOTBALL REVIEW

THE football season of 1929-30 met with a great deal of success compared to the previous years.

This year the McClain Yellowjackets were coached by "Red" Armstrong, former star athlete of the McClain high school and Wittenberg college. "Red" came back to McClain to put the old fight and school spirit into the team and school and succeeded beyond any doubt.

The first game of the season was with Clarksburg. The Yellowjackets held them 3-0. Deer Creek Twp. also fell before the Yellowjackets, by a score of 6-0.

The Yellowjackets were defeated in their first league game by Chillicothe orange men by a 37-0 score.

The Quakers invited the Yellowjackets to Wilmington where they were defeated, 19-0.

The McClain gridiron team next invaded Washington and met with a 12-0 defeat. But returned with the satisfaction of having outplayed the Washington eleven at every turn.

The Cedarville eleven were the next to be defeated by the Yellowjackets by a score of 8-0.

The Hillsboro eleven were the next to meet the Yellowjackets and defeated them, 14-0.

The Yellowjackets invited the Waverly crew to the local gridiron, defeated them to the tune of 45-0.

The last game of the season the Yellowjackets met the Frankfort eleven in a snappy and exciting game which McClain lost, 14-6.

At the end of the Frankfort-McClain game, nine seniors had finished playing their last football game for the Purple and Gold. They were Captain Byron Brubaker, quarter back; Robert Ritter, halfback; Paul Hiser, fullback; John Walker, center; Lowell Slagle, tackle; Dane Wolfe, tackle, and Herbert Priest, halfback.

Basketball Squad

Back Row: Russell Kerr, Lester Warner, Carlton Sitterle, George Carr Smith, Harold Pyle, Coach Gerald Armstrong.

THE purple and gold cagers, under the new coach, Gerald Armstrong, completed the season with eleven victories out of fifteen tilts.

The first game was taken from Highland by a tally of 49-27.

In the next contest the Bainbridge quintet gave battle, but was downed, 55-34.

The locals led in a 62-7 walk-away in the game with Buckskin Township.

Along with Christmas vacation came the first fast games. Aquinas, Columbus, took a 24-14 defeat in an exciting struggle.

The fifth consecutive victory was won over Withrow, Cincinnati, by a score of 33-19.

Leesburg, headed by Grandle, next came to Greenfield to take the town, but returned home with the small end of 36-13.

With the opening of the South Central Ohio League season the McClainers took their first drubbing at the hands of Chillicothe to the tune of 31-19.

The following week a quintet of Wilmington court men arrived to receive a 35-5 setback, the most one-sided basketball tilt recorded in S. C. O. L. history up to that time.

Next the "Blue Lions" of Washington fell, 37-23, to the "Yellowjackets."

Leesburg turned the tables on the McClainers in the game played at the Grandle coliseum.

The victors forged ahead early and kept a lead which ended 20-15, the purple and gold trailing in the dust.

The next tilt also brought defeat to the Yellowjackets. Hillsboro, on their home floor, battled for a one-point lead in the first half, but shot ahead to a 29-20 victory before the final gun.

In a non-league game the locals lost, 36-30, to Covington, Kentucky. The half score stood 16-16, but skill in long shots took an exciting battle from the McClain side of the ledger.

In another practice game East High, Columbus, was forced to swallow the sour end of a 36-19 score.

The final league tilt at Frankfort was probably the most exciting and thrilling of the season. The tally book see-sawed throughout the game. At the half the McClainers led 5-3, and at the third quarter trailed 11-10. The deciding moments came in the last two minutes when the Yellowjackets pushed ahead to a 16-15 victory. This game tied four teams for high honors in the South Central Ohio League. Four silver loving cups were awarded: one to Chillicothe, one to Frankfort, one to Hillsboro, and one to McClain.

Senior Girls Champions In Interclass Basketball

Back Row: Miss Rebecca Smith, substitute teacher for girls' physical education.

The senior girls were again the Inter-Class Basketball Champions. They won the championship in the season of 1927-28.

Senior Boys Champions In Interclass Basketball

Left to Right: Herbert Priest, John Walker, Paul Hiser, Robert Ritter, Dane Wolfe.

After forfeiting one game and losing two, the senior team was awarded the title of class champions. The boys of the class of 1930 have held this honor for the last four consecutive years.

Track Team

First Row: Durwood Overman, Dane Wolfe, Thoroman Handley, George Carr Smith, Lowell Slagle, Russell Kerr, Joe Hull.

Second Row: Robert Ritter, Forest Plummer, Edwin Caron, Robert Helfrich, Marvin Tudor, George Karnes, Daryl Le Fevre, Robert Chaney.

Third Row: Raymond Clark, Joseph Woodruff, Russell Wolfe, Merrick Clark, Edwin Davis, Harold Pyle, Donald Hill, Elmin Weller.

REVIEW OF 1929 TRACK SEASON

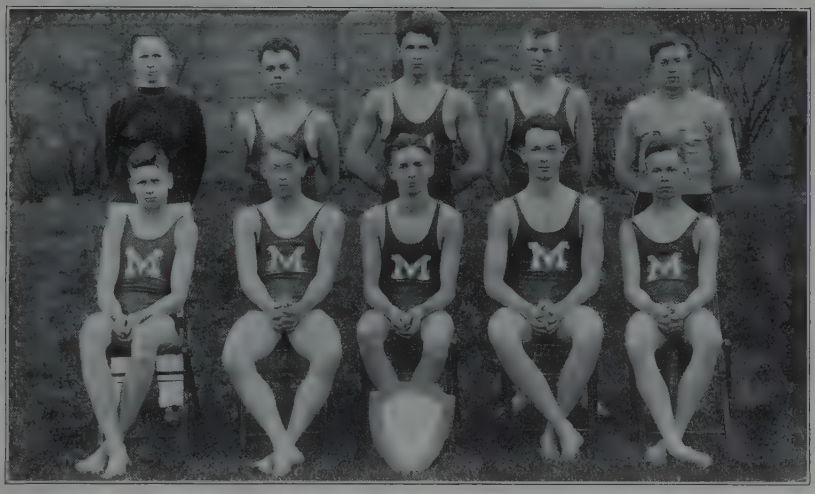
Due to the fact that this sport comes so very late in the school year the record of the previous year is always given.

The McClain crew experienced a fair record in track and field events last year. The first contest was a dual meet with Hillsboro. The Greenfielders captured this, a 74-55 victory.

At Piketon in the Class B, Southeastern Ohio Track and Field Meet, the locals took sixth place with seventeen points.

Seventeen more points brought the purple and gold to fourth place in the annual S. C. O. L. contest.

Swimming Team



First Row: Russell Kerr, Lester Warner, Paul Hiser, Lowell Wilkins, Mulford Cox.

Back Row: Paul Narcross, manager; Vernon Dwyer, Robert Jones, Robert Head, Coach Richard Aiken.

In three of the four dual aquatic meets entered, the McClain team won the honors.

The first victory was taken from Walnut Hills by a score of 40-15.

The only defeat came when the locals journeyed to Withrow High to lose, 43-12.

In a practice meet with the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home of Xenia, the Greenfielders splashed through to a safe margin of 50-18.

Washington C. H. and McClain, the only teams entered in the South Central Ohio League meet this year, battled in the local natatorium for possession of the silver shield trophy. The visitors took first place in one lone event, which meant little in a meet which ended 68-30, the Purple and Gold leading.

"Rejoice in the light that is breaking along the borders of science;
The hidden rays that enable a man
to look through a wall of stone;

The splendid gift of flight that shines, half-captured, above him;
The gleam of a thousand half-guessed secrets, just ready to be discovered!"

McCLAIN HIGH SCHOOL CODE

The typical McClain High School Student is:

1—Appreciative—He is grateful to Mr. McClain and to our community for the educational advantages which they have provided and he will show his appreciation by doing his utmost to properly care for our school building and its equipment.

2—Honest—He is straightforward and sincere in all his actions and respects the property of others.

3—Sportsmanlike—He plays the game fair and square whether he is winner or loser. He will play not for his own glory but for the success of his team.

4—Loyal—He is loyal to his country, his community, his home, and will readily adopt and promote a loyal school spirit.

5—Respectful—He is respectful and obedient to those in authority, to his parents and teachers, and is considerate of the privileges and property of others.

6—Clean—He stands for clean sports, clean habits, and clean companions and tries to keep his mind and body absolutely clean.

7—Prompt—He is on time. His work is prepared at the time appointed.

8—Helpful—He never neglects an opportunity to aid others.

International Honor Society

For High School Journalists

Front Row: Josephine Ellis, Miss Grace A. Blake, Frances Ervin.
Second Row: Mildred Winegar, Helen Nevil, Mary Louise Leaverton, John Walker.

THIS international organization was founded for the purpose of encouraging and awarding journalist work among high school students. It was known until this year as "Quill and Scroll," but with a chapter organized at Holt, England, the name was changed.

The requirements for membership are: The individual must be a senior, must be in the upper third of his class scholastically, must have done outstanding work, and must be recommended by the director, Miss Grace A. Blake, and approved by the national secretary.

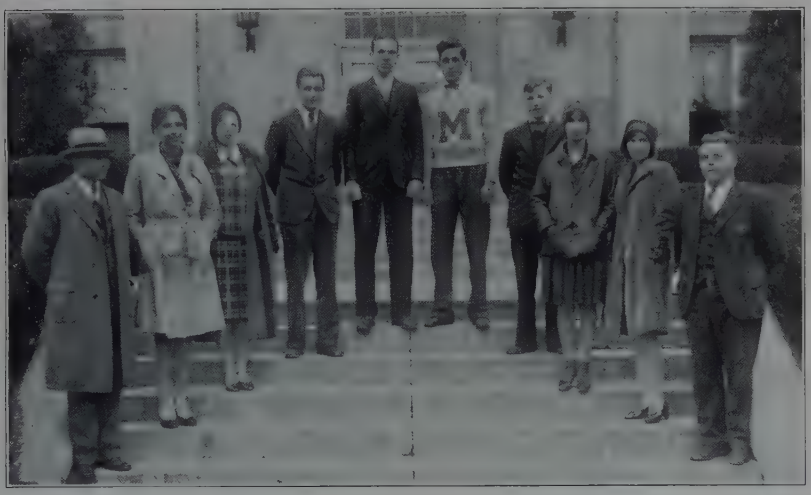
HONORARY MEMBERS

Mr. E. L. McClain, Mrs. E. L. McClain, Mr. Theodore Hammond, Mr. E. K. Jenkins, Supt. F. R. Harris.

FACULTY MEMBERS

Prin. B. R. Duckworth, Miss Grace A. Blake.

Debating Team



Principal B. R. Duckworth, Loa Hart, Mary Alice Parrett, Joseph Woodruff, Wendell Griffith, Lowell Slagle, Robert Chaney, Marguerite Riley, Sara Louise Limes, Mr. C. E. Booher.

THIS is the first time for several years that McClain High School has had a debating team. The negative team was: Robert Chaney, Mary Alice Parrett, Marguerite Riley, with Wendell Griffith as alternate. The affirmative team consisted of Sara Louise Limes, Lowell Slagle, Joseph Woodruff, with Loa Hart as alternate.

The McClain debators won the district championship, the negative team not being defeated, and the affirmative but once. A silver cup was awarded by the Greenfield Republican.

A reorganized negative team, consisting of Mary Alice Parrett, Sara Louise Limes, Robert Chaney, and Marguerite Riley as alternate, participated in two debates for state championship.

The question throughout the year was: "Resolved: That a trial by a judge or board of judges should be substituted for the petit jury in the United States."

Alethean

First Row: Anna Lee Diggs, Georgia Mertz, Helen Ervin, Mildred Anderson, Ernestine Caron, Peggy Tulleys, Agnes Rowe, Grace Marie Winfough, Lucille Barrett, Virginia Ballentine.

THE Journalism Department has introduced two new plans this year. The first was giving a year's subscription to the students securing ten "Dragon" subscriptions.

The second was inaugurated the second semester when the juniors began publishing the McClain High Dragon. Instead of department editors, page editors are used. These are changed for each issue.

Both plans have worked so well it is expected that both will continue another year.

The McClain High Dragon was awarded for the second time "First Class Honor Rating" in a national contest conducted by the National Scholastic Press Association.

Class Day

May 13, 1930

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Friends and Fellow Students:

We, the class of 1930, extend to you a most cordial welcome to our Class Day Program.

Today, in keeping with a custom established several years ago, we conduct our Class Day Exercises. Today we foretell of the future, of which, if true, many and perhaps all would pay dearly to know. Also we shall give the class history, make the class will, present the class gifts, confer the class degrees, read our class knocker, and last but not least, read our class poem.

This day, although it may afford a great deal of pleasure for many of you, is indeed a sad day for us. With this program our activities as students in the McClain High School cease. Perhaps all of us will never again assemble together in this school. However, wherever we are, let us always remember the good times and friendships which we have had in McClain High School.

We wish to thank the teachers for their splendid and helpful guidance throughout our school life in Greenfield. We wish also to thank Mr. McClain for making this school possible, and our parents for giving us the opportunity to attend it.

The days of our high school career have not been days of drudgery, but have been filled with many good times, probably the happiest days of our life. But as is almost always the case, we fail to appreciate our good times until we are out of high school for a few years. Several years from now each and every one of us at some time or other will look back to those old school days and laugh at some incident that particularly impressed him or her.

May I express a wish that every pupil in the class of 1930 will reach his or her goal. Let us hope it is a worthy goal and one that will bring honor and praise to our dear old McClain, gone but never forgotten.

BYRON BRUBAKER.

Class History

CHAPTER I.

NOW the history of the class of Nineteen Thirty, of McClain High School, of the City of Greenfield, County of Highland, State of Ohio, is in this wise:

In the beginning, in the six-and-twentieth year of our Lord, in the ninth month, and on the thirteenth day of the month, there entered into this land of learning, seventy-four seekers of knowledge. Some came up from the eighth grade, where they had for many months been busily engaged in storing their minds with the honey of wisdom; some were green and fresh from a far country; some came from farms, where they had been tillers of the soil; and some were from other halls of instruction.

And it came to pass, as they did enter this land, that they were received with wild welcomings and rejoicings by those who it was decreed should henceforth lead them up the slippery by-ways of knowledge.

Likewise it came also to pass that they were received with malicious glee by a certain band of wild beings who were called "Sophomores," and who, because of their fierce taste for Freshman blood, did pounce upon them daily and nightly, and did cause them to suffer great things, and to say in their hearts:

"Behold, blessed be the name of Education, for because of it have we endured great torments, both of the body and of the mind. Verily have we been martyrs to its great and noble cause!"

And as they dwelt long in the land, they fell in with the customs of the inhabitants thereof, and the strangeness wore away, and they each became as one among the rest.

Now it came to pass, soon after they entered the land, that they were one and all seized with a strange infirmity, which did cause them to act with much fierceness and strangeness of manner, and to grapple and wrestle with their fellows in much rage and seeming ferocity. Wise men were called to look upon them who did examine them with much care and pains and did finally pronounce the infirmity to be "sports," which were sometimes called "football" and "basketball." With many anxious fears and forebodings did the instructors allow the diseases to run their natural courses, and lo, none were killed, and few were seriously injured, and it came to pass that the boys did win the basketball championship and were called the Class Champions. And the boys did also win first place for boys in the Water Carnival.

And in this same year the girls did also win three contests: the Christmas Seal Contest, the Booster Contest and the Harold Lloyd Ticket Sale Contest.

Now during this, the first year of their sojourning in this land of learning, the members of the class of Nineteen Thirty did send one of their members to join the governing body of this land. Now the name of this body was the Student Senate and they did send one Phillip Newell to meet with it.

And it came to pass, after some months, that their eyes were turned toward promotion, but many, with one consent began to make excuse.

The first said, "I am dull and cannot learn. I pray thee have me excused."

Another said, "I must needs toil. I pray thee have me excused." Yet another said, "I am going to be married, and therefore need not pass."

Another said, "I am poor in health. Therefore I cannot graduate."

CHAPTER II.

Now it came to pass at the beginning of the second year that a new band of youths did come up from the adjoining territory, and the Class of Nineteen and Thirty, in the new dignity of their promotion, remembered the days of their own greenness, and as the Sophomores of their day had done unto them even so did they unto these new Freshmen, and did show no mercy unto their sufferings, and no heed unto their lamentations, until all were full of much sorrow.

Now it so happened that this land to which they had come was ruled over by one known as Benton R. Duckworth, a principal of much wisdom, and at the beginning of the second year, he spake unto them, saying:

"Go, gather ye in a body, and organize yourself into a class ,that ye may gain in strength, and that your courage may wax hot!"

And as he spake unto them so was it done, and they chose their wisest ones to be their leaders, and called themselves, with much pride, the Class of Nineteen Thirty. Now these leaders whom they did select were known as Byron Brubaker, President; Marvin Tudor, Vice-President, and Lowell Slagle, Secretary-Treasurer.

And it came to pass that in this same year the Class of Nineteen Thirty did select rings that should be the emblem of their class. And many members of the class did possess themselves of these rings.

Now in this same year two of the girls of the class did have averages above 95 and thus become possessors of Scholarship M's, the scholastic emblem of the land in which they were sojourning.

And it came to pass in this, their sophomore year, that both the boys and the girls did win the basketball championships and thus brought honor and fame to the Class of Nineteen Thirty.

Now in this year, three members of the class did make good account of themselves and thus became possessors of football "M's". And in this same year one member of the class did likewise become owner of a basketball "M". And for the first time a member of the Class of Nineteen Thirty did become a member of the National Athletic Scholarship Society. And the name of the boy was Byron Brubaker.

In this year, as in the year that did come before it, the Class of Nineteen Thirty, did have one representative in the Student Senate of the land in which they were sojourning. And the name of that representative was John Walker.

It came to pass that in this year Kenneth Mercer did win the State Grain Judging Contest. He did also become a member of the State Ton Litter Club.

And so the class journeyed through the land, and once again their thoughts turned toward promotion. And the whole number at the end of the second year was sixty-two.

CHAPTER III.

And it came to pass that sixty of the Class of Nineteen Thirty did come back to their land of learning in the fall of the year. And it had come to pass that they were now called Juniors.

And behold the ruler of the land did again bid them to choose their leaders for that year and the next year. And lo and behold, the Class of Nineteen Thirty did select the same wise leaders that they had selected in their second year!

And this same year they did have three of their number in the Student Senate. And the names of these members were Frances Ervin, Paul Hiser and John Walker.

In this year Frances Ervin and John Walker did wear Scholarship "M's".

Some members of the class did win honors in the field of agriculture. Lowell Slagle did attain the rank of State Farmer in the F. F. A. which does mean the Future Farmers of America. He was also made the State Secretary of F. F. A.

In this same year Kenneth Mercer was again a member of the State Ton Litter Club.

In this year Robert Ritter and Byron Brubaker did become members of the National Athletic Honor Society.

Now in this year a larger number of the boys of the class did engage themselves in sports and three were awarded football "M's": three were awarded basketball "M's"; two were awarded swimming "M's", and one was awarded a track "M" for the work he had done the spring before.

In this year the boys did maintain their record and win the Class Basketball Championship again but the girls did lose to their rivals, the girls of the Class of Twenty Nine.

During this year one of the class, Hazel Iseman, did depart from this earth and leave many to mourn for her.

And in this year the junior class did for the first time present a play. And the name of this play was "A College Town," a goodly number of the class did take part in it.

And as was the custom in this land of learning, the members of the class of Nineteen Thirty did give a banquet for the Class of Nineteen Twenty-Nine. And all did hail this banquet with rejoicing and did sing praises to the Class of Nineteen Thirty.

And so the class neared the end of their goal and did stop for rest for their labors in the next year.

CHAPTER IV.

And it came to pass that in the ninth month, and on the third day of the month, in the year nineteen and twenty-nine, forty-five of the seventy-four seekers of knowledge who had entered four years before, for the last time entered this land of learning to complete their journey in it.

It now happened that they were graced with the title "Seniors" and were obliged to uphold the honor of that worthy title.

In this year nine of the boys did apply themselves diligently and well in that sport which had seized them in all the former years of their school life and they did receive football letters.

And this was true also in basketball, but only four received basketball letters.

Now in this same year the boys and girls did once again win the Class Basketball Championships. And the boys were greatly to be praised for they did win the Championship four years in succession.

During this year the Class of Nineteen Hundred Thirty did have five representatives in the Student Senate. And the names of these representatives were Frances Ervin, Paul Hiser, Robert Jones, Lowell Slagle and John Walker.

And it came to pass that during the time when members of the Class of Nineteen Thirty were publishing the "Dragon" it did have First Class Honor Rating in the national contest and did for the fifth consecutive time win first place in its class in the state contest conducted by Ohio State University.

In this year seven of the class were elected to the National Honor Society and the names of the first five to be elected are Mary Louise Leaverton, Mildred Winegar, Frances Ervin, Byron Brubaker, and John Walker. And two more were elected at a later date.

And in this same year, Frances Ervin, Josephine Ellis, Mildred Winegar, Helen Nevil, Mary Louise Leaverton, and John Walker were made members of International Honor Society for High School Journalists.

In this last year Byron Brubaker, Paul Hiser, Robert Jones, John Walker, Russell Kerr, and Marvin Tudor became members of the National Athletic Scholarship Society.

The name of the play presented by the Class of Nineteen Thirty in this year was "The Patsy." Harriett Sitterle, Jane Upp, Josephine Ellis, Mildred Winegar, Richard Smith, Russell Kerr, Paul Hiser, Marvin Tudor and Robert Jones did take part in this play.

Now in this year it was the turn of the Class of Nineteen Thirty One to provide a feast for the members of this class, and they did as was the custom and provided for the members of the Class of Nineteen Thirty a right royal banquet.

As was the custom at graduation time, the members of the class did assemble together Sunday, May 11, for the Baccalaureate exercises.

And that did bring events up to today, the time honored Class Day, for which this Class History has been prepared that it might be fresh in the minds of the Class of Nineteen Thirty just what they had done.

Now there do remain but three events, the Faculty Reception Thursday, May 15; Commencement, May 16, and the Alumni Banquet on May 20, and the high school days of the Class of Nineteen Thirty will be over.

Class Poem

When the shades of night are falling
And our lessons are o'er and done,
And we see ahead our parting
With the last ray of the setting sun.
And the golden rays of sunlight,
Of the dawn of life's long day,
On the morrow shine upon us,
To lead us on our unknown way.

Classmates, then we know it's over,
School that's sheltered us from care,
We're going forth to fight life's battles,
Stumbling blocks are everywhere.
Then round by round, we mount the ladder,
And step by step, we reach the top.
Plodding onward ever onward
Falter not and never stop.

And when a task we set to do
We'll win it slowly step by step,
For in our sight a guiding star
For higher goals we've always kept.
And when this height of fame is won,
We then will not contented be,
We'll always find a higher goal
To reach out on life's rolling sea.

Along our way in life we'll find
Some pleasures, troubles, joys, and care,
Yet still we strive and win the day
To find a hidden treasure there.
We know not what the prize may be
Nor to what heights of fame we'll climb,
We'll labor hard and day by day
Success to us seems more divine.

And now farewell, McClain, farewell,
We'll not return again to you.
But others' steps will follow us,
So loyal, so upright, and so true.
Our hearts are still with you alone,
Of you these memories we'll hold,
Of how united here we were,
Beneath the purple and the gold.

MARGARET BROOKOVER.

Class Will

WE the graduating class of one thousand nine hundred thirty, being in full possession of a sane mind and superior mentality and cutting loose so rapidly from life, realizing at the same time that we have no longer any time to spend in cultivation of our own virtues, do make and publish this our last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all former wills heretofore made.

Here is the document as duly drawn up and sworn to:

First: To the class of nineteen hundred thirty-one, we do hereby will and bequeath our most honored and esteemed title, "Senior," realizing that they shall not hold up the dignity as we have.

Second: To the sophomore class we will our extraordinary ability to place high on the honor roll.

Third: To the freshman class we leave a memory of us that it may inspire them to a greater fame during the remainder of their high school days.

Fourth: To the custodians we leave the entire school grounds hoping that they keep it in the same good condition as we have in our years in high school.

The following may seem but trifling personal bequests, but we hope that they may be accepted as valuable assets to those who may receive them.

Byron Brubaker, our class president, wills his dashing ways with the women to Alfred Styerwalt.

Mildred Mills gladly gives her excess height to Ruth Burgess.

John Walker wills his baby faced expression to Wayne Wolfe.

To Doris Davis, Doris Dutton wills her desire to tease Miss Owens. Please, do not be too troublesome, Doris.

Marion Binegar wills his knowledge of chemistry to Robert Head. Keep up the good work, Bob.

Josephine Ellis bequeaths her ways of writing notes to underclassmen to Maxine Sulcebarger.

Paul Hiser endows his ways of arguing with the teachers to anyone who can come up to his standard.

Irene Stratton, who has so recently had her hair cut, wills her raven tresses to Virginia Mercer.

Donald Brewer, with generosity, gives his military knowledge to John Wilson.

Jane W. Upp leaves her operatic virtues to anybody who can screech as loud as she can. Preferably Loa Hart.

Richard Smith wills his way of being a nuisance to Everett Binns.

Frances Ervin gives her fear of wolves to Leona Wise.

Robert Jones leaves his ability to swim to Robert Helfrich. Stay in the water as long as you can, "Monk," because we know that you don't get in the water oftener than once a week.

Margaret Brookover wills her way of talking to anybody who can drown her out.

Marvin Tudor bequeaths his knowledge of driving cars to Lowell Wilkins.

Catherine Warner and Lavaunda Trego, the brides to be, leave their engagement rings to Jane Egan and Elsie Grogg.

Lowell Slagle leaves that tough attitude of his to Mercer McDaniel.

Helen Nevil, the sweet little girl that never blushes, leaves the twist in her walk to Sara Louise Limes.

Lacy Hammer wills his way of quitting girls and going back to them to Harold Tudor.

Mary Louise Leaverton wills her ability to win fellows and keep them to Alice Dixon.

Russell Kerr willingly bestows his knowledge of history and civics to Harold Pyle.

Harriett Sitterle wills her flapperish ways and pleasing smile to Helene Price.

Robert Ritter, the second Samson, who also has a great art of parting his hair, wills his achievements to Earl Mitchell.

Lorie Hughey leaves the permanent wave in her hair to Maxine Post.

Kenneth Mercer leaves to Edwin Davis his way of explaining solid geometry propositions.

Nellie Newman wills her high grades on French tests to Georgia Mertz.

George Smith endows to Rex Riley his way of bluffing Miss Crawford. You will need this in American History, Rex.

Upon Imogene Parrett, Janet Towne bestows her laugh. Please use it only when necessary, Imogene.

Mary Alice Parrett endows her way of debating to Marguerite Riley.

Because Herbert Priest fries hamburgers as nobody else can, he leaves this particular ability to Miss Norman's struggling pupils.

Ethel Keplinger and Louise Clements will their studious ways to Dorothy West and Luella Karnes.

Dane Wolf leaves his ability to go steady with one girl and at the same time run around with several others to Joseph Woodruff.

Rosa Case and Vivian Hazlett leave their super knowledge to Lester Warner and Harold Tudor. Please use it in history class, boys.

Kenneth Spargur leaves his method of never using razor blades to Wendell Griffith.

Margarette Anderson wills her love for underclassmen to Mildred Lough.

Tom Mershon wills his class room attitude to Kenneth Harvey.

Ilo Young leaves her ability to drive to Charlotte Nuckals.

Helen West leaves her natural rosy cheeks to Ruth Prior.

Harry Winegar leaves his old Ford to anybody that can persuade it to run.

Inez Evans, the only senior girl hailing from Rainsboro, wills her knowledge of feeding chickens and cows to Ruth Hiser. We think you might have need of it sometime, Ruth.

Harriett Beatty, the girl who is heard before she is seen, wills this particular distinction to Mildred Anderson.

Having duly complied with the wishes of our clients, we do hereby affix our seal this thirteenth day of May, 1930.

Signed: Class of 1930

Class Gifts

TO the class of nineteen hundred and thirty of McClain High School who are about to start on their life's journey and who have carried away so many trophies for McClain, we, as representative of the school, wish to bestow these small gifts in remembrance of their most loyal and useful service here.

To the two "bachelors" of our class, Byron Brubaker and Paul Hiser, we give these ideal girls since they could not find any in McClain High and Washington C. H. to suit them. Beware and don't try any caveman stuff on them, boys.

To the quietest members of our class, Irene Stratton, Inez Evans and Rosa Case, we give these small megaphones so that they may be heard as well as seen.

To Kenneth Spargur, the boy who seldom shaves, we give this safety razor, hoping that he will use it more frequently in the future.

To Louise Clements and Ethel Keplinger, the noisiest members of our class, we give this old muffler, hoping they will tone it down a little bit at least.

To Richard Smith, our class sheik, we give this small book of addresses so that he will not have to resort to the Journalism room and look in the exchange papers. Dick, you had better get a secretary.

To Frances Ervin we give this padlock and key so that she can keep her "Wolfe" in safe keeping.

We give this cake of Palmolive soap to George Carr Smith, to preserve his schoolgirl complexion.

To Mildred Mills we present this "Blow Gum" so that she will look natural.

To Tom Mershon we give this letter "C" hoping it will help him to remember his deportment grades in M. H. S.

To Jane Wilson Upp, because of her ability as a singer, we give this rake, which we hope may help to cultivate her voice.

To Donald Brewer we give this box of "Kellogg's Pep," hoping it will make him snap out of it a little bit at least.

To Mary Alice Parrett we give this list of paints for her car so we can at least see a streak of color as she whizzes by.

To Russell Kerr we present this globe so he can run at least one world as he pleases.

To Harriett Sitterle we give this alarm clock so that she will be on time once in a while. Hattie don't forget to set it.

We know that Harry Winegar is not two-faced but this false face might make an improvement.

We present this "Chain" to Vivian Hazlett. Hoping that a chain once linked together will never be broken.

To Robert Jones we give this tap bell to remind him of his dear old French class under Miss Handley.

We give this "Lemmon" to Mary Louise Leaverton to bring back the memories of her first love affair.

To Lacy Hammer we give this book on "Love" so that he will be able to keep the next girl.

To Mildred Winegar we give this fishing pole, hook and line, so she may catch a fellow some time soon.

To the young Lochinvar of our class, Dane Wolfe, we give this gallant steed so that he may ride to see his fair lady, which happens to be a member of this class.

To Janet Towne, we bestow this package of dates, guaranteeing them to be good ones.

To Marion Binegar, we give this football and basketball letter to show him that we appreciate his wonderful ability in athletics.

As in all classes we have a cradle robber. This time it is Mary Margarette Anderson, so we give here these fairy tales so that she may entertain Thoroman Handley without difficulty.

To John Walker we present this airplane so that he will be able to beat the other boys out to Irene's. Be sure to make a good landing, Johnny.

To Lavaunda Trego, Nellie Newman and Catherine Warner we give these wedding rings so that their fiances will not have to buy them.

To Herbert Priest, we give this onion so that he will never forget the scent of the old "Hamburger Stand."

To give Harriett Beatty justice, we bestow upon her this stationery to keep up her Toledo correspondence.

To Lowell Slagle, who can already strut and flatter, we give this cane and hat so that he may now become a duke.

To Margaret Brookover, the girl who stays at home a lot, we give this puzzle so that she may amuse herself in her spare time.

To Kenneth Mercer, we give this rattle so that he may be heard and amuse himself at the same time.

To Helen Nevil, we give this mirror so that she can tell whether she is blushing or not without bothering her friends.

Since we hear that Robert Ritter only gets from eleven to twelve hours sleep every night, we give this package of sleeping powder so that he may get a few more hours of sleep.

To Helen West, who is destined to become a school teacher at Petersburg, Ohio, we give this bunch of sticks so that she may obtain perfect discipline.

To Ilo Young, we present this cake of yeast, hoping that she may gain a few pounds.

To Doris Dutton, we give this small car, so that she will not wear out Warren's.

Last but not least—To Lorie Hughey we give this comb, because we are afraid that her other one is about worn out.

We hope these gifts will be received in the manner they were given.

MARVIN TUDOR.

JOSEPHINE ELLIS.

MISS RUTH KESSLER, Sponsor.

John Walker was heard to say a few weeks ago: "I guess I must be getting pink eye." Sure enough he did wear dark glasses for a short time.

No wonder his eyes became sore. The poor things had to strike after all the looking he has made them do in Irene's direction this year.

We suppose he will come back with the words of the wise, "Well, Irene certainly is a sight for sore eyes."

Oh, yes, John, we know how you feel.

AN OIL FOR EVERY CAR

It was dusk as she stopped at the roadside garage.
"I want a quart of red oil," she said.
The man gasped and hesitated.
"Give me a quart of red oil," she repeated.
"A q-quart of r-r-red oil?"
"Certainly," she said. "My tail light has gone out!"

IDENTIFIED

First Farmer: "I've got a freak on my farm. It's a two legged calf.
Second Farmer: "I know. He came over to call on my daughter last night."

Miss Johnson: "Lowell, I think your future occupation will be a floor walker."
Lowell Slagle: "Will you give me a recommendation?"
Miss Johnson: "Yes, I can testify you walk six hours every day.

Miss Cosner told the senior geometry class that they would have to use their imagination to get along well in geometry. So one day Harry Winegar was explaining a proposition and when he got through Miss Cosner said: "I don't see heads or tails to that."
Harry W.: "Well, you've got to use your imagination."

While analyzing the sentence:
"Dr. Martin wrote a story on Mexican life." Helen Nevil said
"Dr. Martin is the subject."
Mildred Winegar: "No, doctor is an adjective. Martin is the subject."
Josephine Ellis: "Why no, doctor is a profession."

TWO BRUTES!

Louise O'Brien: "My brother threw a cake at me. One that I made myself, too!"
Catherine Warner: "The brute! He might have killed you."

SOMETHING NEW IN GRAMMAR

Miss Johnson: "Give me an example of a collective noun."
Wayne Wolfe: "Vacuum Cleaner."

A FRUIT THAT MADE GOOD

Dick Smith: "What's grape fruit?"
Harold Tudor: "Strictly speaking, it's a lemon that's been given a chance and taken advantage of it."

WE HATE TO DO THIS

John Walker: "I can tell you how much water to the quart goes over Niagara Falls."
Helen Nevil: "Really! How much?"
John W: "Two pints."

Doris Dutton (to Miss Owens): "Can you change a quarter?"
Miss Owens: "Yes, I think so. How much do you want?"

Mary Louise Leaverton, in teasing Mildred Winegar about what she put in the prophecy about her, said: "Milly, it must have been love at first sight."
Helen Nevil: "Mine wasn't love at first sight, it was second sight."

FAIR WARNING

Two loud knocks heralded the arrival of the rent collector. A little girl answered the door, and said, blushingly: "Please, sir, mother's out."
"Is she?" queried the collector, peering down the passage. "Then tell mother the next time she goes out to take her shadow with her."

CAN'T FOOL TOMMY

"What letter comes after "H"? demanded the teacher.
"Please, miss, I don't know," answered Tommy.
"Well, what have I on each side of my nose?" pressed the teacher.
"Look's like powder, miss," said Tommy.

Class Degrees

THE faculty of McClain has appointed us as a committee to confer honorary degrees upon each and every senior in the class of '30. We have taken great pains in studying each of these dignified individuals and have at last reached our decision. We now take great pleasure in conferring these degrees upon such deserving seniors.

We hear that Mary Louise Leaverton has a boy friend named Lemmon so we'll give her L. S.—Lemon Squeezer.

Since Lowell Slagle thinks he knows it all we give him C. S.—Conceited Slagle

Because Helen Nevil is so bashful we give her B. B.—Bashful Baby.

Marvin Tudor seems to have the ability of wrecking perfectly new cars, so we think he deserves the title C. W.—Car Wrecker.

Someone said that Herbert Priest knows his hamburgers, so to him goes H. K.—Hamburger King.

Frances Ervin is awfully meek, but she likes to hear W. A. D.—Wolfe At the Door.

As long as Byron is reckless with cars only we'll give him R. B.—Reckless Byron.

All Ethel Keplinger says is George this and George that, so she gets G. G.—George's Gal.

The way Marion Binegar gave his oration entitles him to M. M.—Monotone Marion.

Jo Ellis has tried to rate a steady in school somewhere, hence the C. F.—Class Flirt.

We wonder if Russell Kerr argues with himself as much as he does with the teachers, if so, we give him A. K.—Arguing Kerr.

We give Margaret Brookover T. B.—Not too big, but Talkative Brookover.

We are pleased to confer upon Harry Winegar the degree H. H.—Halatosis Harry.

Janet Towne wastes a lot of time arguing about her test grades, so she must be D. J.—Discontented Janet.

Since Robert Ritter has made his debut as a chorus girl he is hailed as Z. P.—Ziegfeld's Pet.

To Irene Stratton, who believes in the old saying children should be seen and not heard we give this degree of S. S.—Silent Stratton.

Because of her curly locks we give Marguerite Anderson C. T.—Carrot Top.

To Louise Clements we give P. G.—Perpetual Gabber. This needs no explanation.

Since Kenneth Mercer is such a shark in Math, we give him C. M.—Class Mathematician.

Since Mildred Mills has such fetching and modest ways, we give her C. I.—Class Innocence.

When Lavaunda Trego hangs out her shingle over her new garage we suggest that she put this on it: M. A. M.—McCullough Auto Mechanic.

The girls are all wondering why Paul avoids them. He must be a W. H. —Woman Hater.

We want to console poor Jane Wilson with G. C. R.—Galla Curtia's Rival.

To Robert Jones, who does not indulge in gossip or heated arguments we give B. O. K.—Best of Kids.

To Helen West, who is almost as good looking as Helen of Troy, we give H. P.—Helen of Petersburg.

We give Vivian Hazelett and Catherine Warner the title J. J. B.—Just June Brides.

Harriett Sitterle deserves the degree L. D. R.—Long Distance Runner—since she runs eight blocks to school every morning.

To Doris Dutton we give W. M.—not Warren Wills—but Willing to Marry.

Since John Walker thinks that he is the most important Senior, we give him this degree, N. S.—Not So.

Harriett Beatty deserves a gold medal when it comes to chewing gum. It is our duty then to give her B. Q.—Beechnut Queen.

On Tom Mershon we confer this one letter, U.—Unconscious.

Lorie Hughey deserves the title C. H.—Curly Head.

To Lacy Hammer we give this honorary degree of B. B. D.—Beautiful But Dumb.

To Mildred Winegar, who thinks that she is the whole journalism class, we give J. D. R.—Just a Dragon Reporter.

Since Nellie Newman likes to sleep in chemistry class we give her S. E. N. —Sleepy Eyed Nellie.

Dane Wolfe has taken quite a fancy to the opposite sex lately, so we give him L. M.—Ladies' Man.

Since Ilo Young is so good in shorthand, we give her P. S.—Prize Stenographer.

To Kenneth Sparger we give this degree of Y. H.—Young and Handsome.

To Inez Evans, who always tends her own business, which is unusual for the class of '30, we give C. W.—Class Wonder.

To George Carr Smith we give F. F.—Fishing Fool.

Rosa Case is so quiet that her only reward is T. S.—Timid Soul.

Donald Brewer has shown a remarkable ability as a National Guard, therefore we give him this degree of A. P.—Another Pershing.

MARY ALICE PARRETT.

RICHARD SMITH.

MISS MARIE OWENS, Sponsor.

HER OWN PRIVATE OPINION

"I hear you are not going to marry Mr. Newcome after all. Why is that?"

"Oh, father thinks his position isn't good enough and mother thinks he is too old for me. My aunts think he is too good-looking to make a satisfactory husband, and my Uncle Jim says he has heard rumors about him. My cousins tell me he is a flirt, and I—"

"Yes, and you—what do you think about it all?"

"Oh, I think I ought to wait until he asks me."

AND WORRY IS SO FUTILE

"By the way, Joe, don't worry any more about that ten shillings you owe me."

"Why, don't you want it?"

"Not that, but there's no use both of us worrying about it."

EXPENSIVE

"It seems necessary that I should see your father," said the teacher as she looked over Willie's very low marks.

"You'd better not," said Willie, the son of a dentist, "my dad charges $3.00 a visit."

TRY IT AND SEE

Mr Booher: "I understand that the new moth which has recently been discovered is called Eucepolsis Hyperthena Cullumnar."

Mr. Duckworth: "Yes, but not very often!"

NOR PUT OUT THE CAT

Chaplain: "And are you comfortable here in prison, my good man?"

Convict: "It has its drawbacks, of course, but I don't have to get up in the middle of the night to see if the door is locked."

THE TIME TO CALL

Bob J: "I called to make an appointment with the dentist."

Office Girl: "He's out just now."

Bob J: "Ah! When do you expect him to be out again?"

WILLIE'S REJOINDER

Grandmother (to Willie, who won't put away his toys): "Willie, let me tell you a story. Once upon a time there was a little boy who never put his toys away, so one day a terrible giant came and stole him from his mummy and daddy. That's what will happen to you one of these days."

Willie: "Now, grandma, I'll tell you one. Once upon a time there was a cat—and it barked."

KEEN OBSERVER

"Do you ever try to tell people by the clothes they wear?" asked the girl of her fiance.

"Sometimes," he replied. "For instance, if I see a man dressed in a blue suit with shiny buttons, with a helmet on his head and a club in his hand, I'm willing to bet a dollar he's a policeman."

DOWN OUT OF CONTROL

Harry came in crying and holding his head in his hands.

"What fell on your head?" we asked.

"I did," he sobbed.

THE JURY'S VERDICT

An Arkansas man was tried for assault with intent to kill.

The prosecutor produced a fence rail, a gun, a saw, and a rifle as the weapons used.

The defense said the weapons of the other man were a scythe blade, a pitchfork, a pistol, a razor, and a hoe.

The jury retired and delivered this verdict.

"We, the jury, would have given a dollar to see the fight."

THE LATEST STYLES

Ruth Hiser: "Why don't you bob your hair?"

Sara Limes: "I can't decide whether to make it look like a whisk broom or a feather duster."

"On the Corner"

IF HE ONLY WOULD

I wish that God would send a teacher,
A really reliable one,
Who wouldn't ever gripe at us,
For things that she herself has done.
They never trust us an inch away,
Doubt us when our work is done;
Think we come to school for fun
And growl at us because we're dumb.
If they would look a little closer
And understand our lives so young,
I'm sure they wouldn't get so angry
At the trifling things that we have done.

A SPOHOMORE GIRL.

Class Knocker

1930

"TO see himself as others see him" is a man's most priceless treasure. McClain seniors are very blind in this respect, it seems, and others seem afraid to tell them their faults. This being the case—if your best friends won't tell you—we will!

First we have our class officers. Byron Brubaker, our president, has been awarded so many honors that they have apparently gone to his head, so much so in fact, that he can no longer recognize his high school classmates but is seen en route to Washington C. H. quite frequently. We don't think the girls look broken hearted, do you?

If Marvin Tudor, Vice-President, could have held his car in the road as well as he made baskets and played basketball, he wouldn't be walking now.

To Lowell Slagle, secretary of the senior class, we want to give this hint: "A man can know something all the time, and everything some of the time, but he can't know everything all the time."

Helen Nevil, class blusher, who is probably giving a free demonstration now, believes everything she is told. We might advise her to write to the company where she got the booklet, "PARLOR ETIQUETTE," and get one called "COMMON SENSE."

Mildred Mills, Ethel Keplinger and Louise Clement's singing sounds all right at the side entrance but we wouldn't advise them to try to get on the stage with their voices. We are glad their serenades are ending soon.

Marion Binegar and Tom Mershon certainly cannot be congratulated on their school spirit and enthusiasm during their high school career.

Even though Donald Brewer has been with us a year, he is so quiet and inactive that we still haven't realized his presence.

If stubbornness meant winning the race, Herbert Priest would be there with flying colors.

Robert Ritter may be a football star but as a chorus girl he is a total flop.

If advice wasn't so cheap Russell Kerr wouldn't be blowing so much.

Lavanda Trego should be able to fill a large position when she graduates. We bet she has set the Cafeteria back plenty.

All we can say about Mildred Winegar is that she certainly is "Cute."

Harriet Beatty certainly has acquired the art of chewing gum without getting caught.

Helen West hails from Petersburg. She shows it!

Janet Towne always could sell tickets when a free one was in sight.

If Doris Dutton loses her temper with Warren Mills like she does with Miss Owens, it's curtains for someone.

We think Lorie Hughey has beautiful hair. She does too!

Margaret Brookover seems to have the world's long distance record for perpetual motion of her tongue. And Oh! how she can talk!

First Lacy Hammer tried to be a football manager, now he is trying to be a sheik.

We wish to tell Jane Upp that it is high time that she discard her babyish ways and act like a senior.

We know Mary Margarette Anderson will be sorry when she graduates, because she won't be able to entertain any more freshmen.

The class of '30 never will understand why Catherine Warner never took up Journalism so that she might have a chance to go down to the Republican office more often.

Ilo Young could be a better success if she could make herself as much noticed as she does in typewriting.

Inez Evans has been very quiet around McClain but very active in neighboring village. And HE has red hair.

Mary Louise Leaverton has gained a good scholastic standing in high school but she hasn't had quite the same luck with the opposite sex.

We are sure that all of you will admit that some one took you to school the first day. But it is a hard thing to realize that Vivian Hazelett is still being escorted every morning and noon.

To Nellie Newman, we might say, that it would be advisable to get some sleep at night instead of waiting for chemistry class.

Mary Alice Parrett ought to be a good debator, she has B's and C's in deportment for talking.

Although Josephine Ellis' flirting has not won her a man in high school, she has furnished keen competition.

Richard Smith has furnished much wit and displayed plenty of pep through high school, but when that's said it's all said.

If George Carr Smith knew as much about his studies as he knows about a fishing pole and a shot gun, Harvard would be offering him a scholarship.

Since Dane Wolfe's and Frances Ervin's names have been linked together in every issue of the Dragon we believe they must be in love. They say love is blind. Which way is this? We think both ways.

If silence were golden, Rosa Case and Irene Stratton would be rich.

It took Johnny Walker a long time to fall, but when he did he crashed for a freshman. What a break for the senior girls.

It is quite appropriate that they call Harry Winegar and Kenneth Spargur the "Rainsboro Twins," for one couldn't be so dumb.

Bobby Jones is a heartbreaker but too bashful to be aware of the fact. Wake up, Bob!

Kenneth Mercer is good at raising hogs but he was never known to raise a rumpus.

So ends the class knocker. We have only fulfilled our appointed duty.

In the years that are to follow and Father Time has taken his count, and you find yourself in the autumn of life, read of the days gone by, but please remember us not as your fault finders but as your friends in the class of 1930.

Class Prophecy

"WELL, Mary Louise, this plan of yours for having the 1930 class of old McClain send in telegrams telling where each one is and what each one is doing is certainly a clever idea."

"Now stop your flattering and tend to your business. It's only two minutes until we go on the air, and you haven't those telegrams arranged yet. Just like you used to do, putting everything off until the last minute. By the way, here's some more telegrams."

"If you're going on on time you'd better be turning on that switch."

"Well, here goes."

"This is station WLS, The Wolfe-Leaverton Station, broadcasting from Miami Beach, Florida. On April 15, 1950, an announcement was made for the 1930 graduates of McClain High School to send in telegrams or cablegrams telling where each is and what each is doing. The purpose of this is to keep in touch with each member of the class."

"The last of these telegrams have just been received. As reading all of them would be too monotonous, I shall read only a few of them and tell about the others.

"Here is one from the blonde haired boy of our class, Lacy Hammer. I doubt if he has any hair now. It reads: 'I suppose I have had the toughest luck of any member of the class. I lost a half million dollars in the stock market and had to quit the drug store business and take up prizefighting.'

"Here's one from Greenfield. I guess it is sent by Marion Binegar. He says he took over Armstrong's position five years ago, Armstrong having retired on account of old age. Binegar has ended up with a very successful season this year.

"I guess high school days are the habit forming days. You will all remember that Rosa Case was one of the quietest and most backward girls of the senior class. She never would give herself credit for what she did. She hasn't changed a bit either. We all know that Rosa has become the most noted aviatrix the world has ever known, but yet in this cablegram from Paris she very simply states that she flies a plane only now and then.

"What do you think of this? It is from Lorie Hughey. I guess she must be as dangerous as she always was. It reads: 'Married three times. Widow now. Engaged to Pittsburgh steel man.' Maybe she won't have another man so soon since this one is a steel man.

"I almost passed out when I received this one from Russell Kerr stating that he was a doctor in New Petersburg. I'll bet he and Kenneth Mercer are working together since Kenneth has recently opened an undertaking establishment there.

"Kenneth Spargur, editor of the Greenfield Times, has just sent us a copy of that issue. The leading issue has to do with a robbery that took place in Tudor's Rexall Store, which is owned and operated by Marvin Tudor. Detective Harry Winegar immediately began investigations and later arrested a man who proved to be not guilty.

"Byron Brubaker always did seem like a wild man. Now I know it. He cabled me from South America saying he would start for the United States next year with a three-ring circus. With the aid of the two world known clowns, Tom Mershon and Donald Brewer, he thinks his show will be bigger and better than ever.

"Margarette Anderson sends in one from Wall Street. She has just become manager of the A. & P. Chain Stores. She and her private secretary, Harriett Beatty, are going to travel in Europe next month to establish some new stores there.

"The two religious members of our class did carry out their plans. Ethel Keplinger and Louise Clements send in a telegram inviting all the members of the class who can to attend the evangelistic campaign which they are holding in the McClain High School Stadium. With the aid of their choir master, Vivian Hazlett, they hope to have very interesting meetings.

"Inez Evans, whom you all remember as the blonde haired girl who hailed from Rainsboro, sent me a telegram from Chicago saying she has won in a Flag Pole Sitting Marathon which was held there.

"Some of the boys just couldn't leave old McClain. We heard from Paul Hiser, who has taken Mr. Duckworth's place as principal. We know that Paul likes his position because he can have more control of the school. Richard Smith has also taken Miss Handley's place as French professor. Robert Ritter became director of the band after Mr. Price retired.

"Here's one from Hollywood. Lowell Slagle and Ilo Young have the leading parts in a picture, "THE CONQUERED WOMAN-HATER," which is being filmed. Janet Towne has the leading chorus part. Janet has developed the largest chorus in Hollywood.

"Herbert Priest was the first to establish the modern chain Hot-Dog Stands, which are scattered throughout the state of Ohio. Having made a fortune of millions of dollars, Herbert has been building several schools similar to the McClain School Plant, in some of the less prosperous districts of Ohio.

"Robert Jones married Helen Nevil shortly after graduation, and went to Atlantic City where Robert has distinguished himself as an opera singer. Helen has become one of the most noted dance instructors in America.

"Helen West, who recently divorced her school teacher husband, on the grounds of gross neglect of duty, has a very modern beauty parlor in New Petersburg. She employs no one except French girls who have had the best of training.

"Here's another one from New Petersburg. It must be getting to be quite a place. John Walker has settled down to a very quiet and peaceful life on his father-in-law's farm near New Petersburg.

"Mildred Winegar, another home lover, is living in Bloomingburg. I've heard that she has done her best to make as good a wife as she can, and I think she'd make a good one. There is an example of love at first sight.

"Harriett Sitterle seems to be traveling. She says that she is searching for health, but she never married, so I'll bet it would be more like it to say that she was looking for a man.

"Nellie Newman, who started out as a teacher in one of Chicago's schools, has become principal of that school. She says that she enjoys her work immensely.

"One of our class has become a noted author. Mary Alice Parrett has just finished a book entitled "The Truth About Love." If you haven't already read it you will gain something by reading it. I learned several things that I never knew before. At present, Mary Alice has a studio in the slums of Lyndon, Ohio.

"Jane Wilson Upp and Mildred Mills have won great fame as football referees for girls' games in some of the large colleges. These were the only girls in McClain who were tough enough for such a brutal game.

"George Carr Smith is chauffeur for Irene Stratton, Irene having received a large fortune from an old uncle in England.

"One of the serious members of our class had to turn out funny. Frances Ervin became editor of the Comic Section of the Greenfield Daily Republican.

"Josephine Ellis has won the title of Miss Ohio in the bathing beauty contest held at Palm Beach, Florida, this month.

"Speaking of contests, Margaret Brookover has won the horseback riding contest in New York.

"Here is the last one of the telegrams. Doris Dutton married a newspaper man and retired to Centerfield.

"There are two more members of the class, Lavaunda Trego and Catherine Warner. They are both here with us. Lavaunda broadcasts very interesting talks every morning from 11 to 12 o'clock. This is our women's hour.

"From 7 to 8 o'clock every evening Catherine Warner tells bedtime stories for the children.

"This is station WLS, Wolfe-Leaverton Station at Miami Beach, Florida, signing off until 7 o'clock this evening, when Catherine Warner will devote an hour to bedtime stories for the kiddies. We have just finished telling about the 1930 class of old McClain. This is all until 7 o'clock tonight."
